

Healthcare Distribution Alliance:

Supporting the Safe and Efficient Delivery of Healthcare for Nearly 150 Years

The Healthcare Distribution Alliance is the trade organization representing healthcare distributors — the vital link™ between more than 1,400 manufacturers and over 450,000 providers across the U.S., including pharmacies, hospitals, long-term care facilities, clinics and others.

Since 1876, HDA has helped members navigate regulations and innovations to get the right medicines to the right patients education focused on priority healthcare supply chain issues. Further, HDA's services include the Pharmaceutical Cargo Security Coalition.

HDA's mission is to:

- Advocate for sound public policy that supports patient access to medicines and medical products through safe, efficient and effective distribution.
- Lead the healthcare supply chain on policy issues, business practices and industry guidelines to inform and support member development of innovative solutions.
- Convene and partner with public and private stakeholders to facilitate discussions on industry issues, provide education and support the sharing of leading practices.

HDA membership represents the full spectrum of the healthcare supply chain.

Our 37 members deliver savings and efficiencies to the healthcare ecosystem.

HDA DISTRIBUTORS REPRESENT

PROVIDE UP TO

Sources

- Healthcare Distribution Alliance (HDA) Research Foundation, 96th Edition HDA Factbook: The Facts, Figures and Trends in Healthcare (2025-2026), 2025.
- HDA, The Role of Distributors in the US Health Care Industry, 2025.
- HDA Member Database, 2025.